

Recent Encounters with Reptiles

ROGER PLANT

Member's recent encounters with reptiles.

These pristine representatives of a primal past, surprisingly with eye contact, bearing the presence of humans close within their realm. A few fleeting moments and a privileged connection is established between a distant, primeval period of natural history and the present.